Dear Sir/Madam,

We take this time for extending an invitation to you to participate and share your ideas in One Day Interdisciplinary National Conference on “Higher Education in India: Perspectives and Prospects” on March 13, 2021 to celebrate the journey of 100 years of establishment.

About Akal Degree College Mastuana

Akal Degree College, Mastuana, is NAAC B⁺ accredited prestigious institution of Malwa Region of Punjab which was established in the year 1920 by Sant Attar Singh Ji. It is run by Akal College Council (Regd.), Mastuana Sahib which is an organization working towards empowering rural masses by increasing their access to qualitative and value-based education. Sant Attar Singh Ji always advocated quality education, blended with lofty principles of compassion, humility and the higher values in life. The college has now stepped into 101st year of its eventful existence. It is a co-educational college providing education in the fields of Science, Commerce, Arts, Agriculture, Computer Applications and Management. The college lays special emphasis on intellectual awareness, sports activities, social service, cultural refinement, ethical and moral values and development of technical skills amongst its stakeholders. The vision of the college is to prepare globally competent versatile personalities, especially from rural masses and socially deprived sections of the society, by imbibing educational ideas, ideals and ideologies of Saint Attar Singh Ji.

About UGC-HRDC Punjabi University, Patiala

The UGC- Human Resource Development Centre of Punjabi University, Patiala was established in the year April, 2009. It is an inter-university centre which organises various career advancement programs and enhances teaching learning, administration and research for various stakeholders in higher education.

The main objective is to enable teachers to understand the significance of Higher Education, in the global and Indian contexts. The vision of the Centre is to understand the linkages between education, socio-economic and cultural development with particular reference to Indian policy where democracy, secularism and social equity are the basic tenants of society. HRDC also seeks to utilize opportunities for development of personality, initiative and creativity amongst teaching fraternity. Dr. Munruchi Kaur, Professor & HOD, Department of Botany, is the present Director.

About the Conference

In the emerging global world order, India is trying to position itself as a knowledge driven economy. Higher education assumes an important role in this context. It imparts knowledge, develops the student's ability and also gives him/her a wider perspective of the world around. The Higher Education in India has grown up by leaps and bounds in recent times. Modern techniques, such as MOOCs, Flipped classrooms, Virtual teaching-learning in Covid-19 period, Digital meetings, Online examination and evaluation, Personalized learning, have given new dimensions to the current education system which demands retrospection. This conference is aimed at providing the researchers, analysts, teachers and other stakeholders, an opportunity to exchange ideas on the issues and challenges in the Higher Education in India. The initiatives taken by the government to meet those challenges will also be discussed.
